

BEEKEEPER REGISTRATION AND HIVE IDENTIFICATION CODE FORM

FOR NEW BEEKEEPERS REGISTERING DURING THE PERIOD (July 1 2023 - June 30 2024)

Beekeepers have a number of responsibilities under the Livestock Act 1997 relating to registration, including:

- any person who keeps honeybees, including hives used for any purpose and of any type (including nucs, Top bar, Warre, Flow hives, etc.), even if just one hive in the backyard, must register annually. Failure to register is an offence - Max. Penalty $10,000
- beekeepers must notify Biosecurity SA in writing within 14 days after changing their postal address - Max. Penalty $250
- beekeepers keeping 5 or more hives must pay the hive contribution to the South Australian Apiary Industry Fund (AIF). The AIF is used to fund programs of benefit to the apiary industry, whilst beekeepers in default are not entitled to receive direct benefits or services from these programs.

Completing this Form

Use pen and writing in legible BLOCK LETTERS, and:

- if any errors are made clearly make the necessary changes
- complete all relevant blank fields within each section.

All fields are mandatory (depending on the number of hives you own). You are not registered until this form is completed and the form and the correct payment have been processed by Biosecurity SA.
